AN EXTRA EARLY VARIETY OF
SUPERB MERIT

Exceedingly Prolific—The "Quality" Snap Bean

WHEN we offered this remarkable extra early snap bean to our customers a couple of seasons ago on our novelty pages, we anticipated that surely before this time we could supplant the space with another bean of equal or superior merit, but such is not the case. In fact we doubt if ever a better green-podded bush variety will be discovered; say what we may we cannot estimate the many good qualities of our private strain of Longfellow. Its handsome straight fleshy solid pods averaging from 6 to 7 inches in length, together with its captivating delicious flavor make it a bean so much in demand that gardeners have been unable to supply the trade. Owing to its extra earliness it is ready for market fully a week before its nearest rival.

Succeeds where all other varieties fail. The best keeper. The largest headed. The finest quality.

This is the Cabbage that has made more money for Gardeners than any other Variety ever discovered.

St. L. S. Co.'s New American King Cabbage

FOR family or market garden, for forcing or cold frames, this peerless main crop cabbage has proven its superiority over all other rivals. Its mammoth solid heads and its unique short stem make it a marvel of beauty. Introduced by us in 1904, it has met with universal praise everywhere. Mammoth, solid heads, weighing from 25 to 30 pounds are common sights in a field of this wonderful late Cabbage. We could not offer you anything better if we had the world's entire output of cabbage to select from. Its chief points of merit are its absolute reliability as a sure cropper, its uniformly large size of head, its great drought and worm-proof qualities, its sturdy constitution and its long standing character. In all points it excels by far all other late Cabbage. A very prominent and distinct feature of the American King is the small number of ribs and their remarkable smallness in size. This stamps it of the highest table quality, whether for boiling, slicing or kraut. It is ready for use quite as early as any other fall Cabbage, but if allowed to stand in the field it will continue growing until it assumes an immense size. The marvelous new Cabbage will pay and surprise you beyond doubt.

Mushroom (Champignon-Brut)

One pound English Spawn will spawn about 6 square feet

MUSHROOMS may be grown in a great variety of situations,—a dark room, cellar, stable or elsewhere. Any place in which an even temperature of about 50° or 60° can be kept, is suitable. For materials for the bed, use fresh horse-manure, free from straw or chips, and good loamy soil. Some growers use the manure unmixed with loam, after first having well fermented it by alternately piling up and mixing for a few weeks; but it is undoubtedly better not to allow the manure to heat much before forming the bed. Use one-fourth to one-third loam; the rest manure. Mix very thoroughly and upon a dry, firm bottom make the bed of this mixture, about four feet wide, and of any desired length. Build it up evenly, pressing it down very firmly, and leave it about a foot high. It will shortly begin to heat. Use a thermometer to thrust into bed, and note the temperature. When the heat has partially subsided, leaving a temperature of 70° to 80°, put in the spawn. Pieces from the size of walnuts to that of eggs are placed in the bed about a foot apart, deep enough to cover them well, and the manure is pressed down. Let it remain thus ten or twelve days; then cover with two inches of fresh loam, and make this moderately firm. The bed is finished by covering all with 4 or 5 inches of straw or other litter. Watering is not necessary, unless the surface of the bed gets very dry; in this event, moisten freely with water at a temperature of about 80°. In gathering the crop do not cut, but twist them off carefully, filling up the holes with loam to keep insects from the roots. In six or eight weeks from spawning the beds, Mushrooms should appear.

To those wishing to more thoroughly investigate the subject of mushroom growing, we can recommend, "How to Grow Mushrooms," by Falconer, $1, and "Mushroom Culture" by Robinson, 50c.

Nichol's Yellow Queen

THE grandest new Yellow Corn on the market to-day. We pride ourselves as being the first to produce such a wonderful variety. It is a big yielder of fine large yellow ears. (See cut above.) The ears are very large, well developed and of a golden yellow color. The grains are deep and the cob is small. The stalks grow to a medium size in height, being very juicy and bushy, therefore making one of the finest fodder corns obtainable. There are a very few suckers found in a field of our Yellow Queen. If you are looking for a corn that will make you more money than you have ever seen or planted heretofore, stop right now. Here is the corn that will do it.

Price: Pk. 85c; $\frac{1}{2}$ bu. \$1.40; bu. \$2.50; 5 bu. at \$2.25 per bu.

Nichol's Golden Chief

THE stalk grows medium tall, thick and heavy; the ears grow just the right height for husking; ears grow very long, thick and solid; the cob is exceedingly small, and the big, rich, golden-yellow grains are closely netted together. The yield being enormous, it is without doubt the Corn everybody has been looking for. We could not believe ourselves until after we had seen the big stalks laden down with ears of mammoth size. Remember, we are the sole originators.

Price: Per peck 75c; $\frac{1}{2}$ bu. \$1.15; bu. \$2.00; 5 bu. at \$1.90 per bu.

Nichol's White Star

THE greatest White Corn ever introduced. It has been tested thoroughly and has been admired by every one. Our local farmers are planting heavily of it. It is a very large white ear, with deep grains on a small white cob. Many stalks produce two and three ears. Will yield double any corn in this market. It matures in about 100 days and will out-shell any other, except our Famous Gold Bond. No one else can supply you but us. Price: Pk. 75c; $\frac{1}{2}$ bu. \$1.25; bu. \$2.25; 10 bu. at \$2.10 per bu.

The leaves grow broad and long, which make it an ideal fodder corn after husking. This corn is not only good for certain sections. For high or low lands, it is the best. Do not fail to give it a trial this year. Matures in 95 days. Price: Pk. 75c; ½ bu. $1.25; bu. $2.00; 5 bu. at $1.90 per bu.

Clover Seed

(60 Pounds Per Bushel)

Prices Are Subject to Market Changes

RED CLOVER—The most practical of all Clovers, being used for hay and pasturage, as well as for enriching lands. Our strictly "Fancy Recleaned" grade cannot be surpassed by anyone, and we strongly advise all to use this grade. Always bear in mind that it takes less seed when you sow the best. 1 lb. 20c; 10 lbs. $1.40; bu. $7.35; 100 lbs. $12.00.

MAMMOTH CLOVER (Sapling)—Grows much taller and heavier than common Red Clover. Produces an enormous yield and is of high feeding quality. It will make your soils light and loamy. Price: Fancy recleaned, 1 lb. 20c; 10 lbs. $1.50; bu. $7.60; 100 lbs. $12.50.

ALSIKE OR SWEDISH CLOVER—A very hardy variety that succeeds on any kind of soil and resists extremes of heat and drought. It is usually planted in mixture with grasses for pasturage and for hay; especially with timothy. It is excellent for bees. When once established it yields enormously. It is similar to Red Clover in every particular of growth and feeding value. Price: 1 lb. 25c; 10 lbs. $2.00; bu. $10.75; 100 lbs. $17.50.

ALFALFA CLOVER—(Fancy)—The King of Forage Plants—Alfalfa is the corner-stone upon which is being built the prosperity of wide areas of our agricultural country—with its never-failing four to five crops of from six to twelve tons per acre; its great fattening qualities for horses, cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry, its drought-resisting qualities. After once being rooted, its perennity is more than two decades while some claim for it immortality. There is not one crop known to the West that pays better returns in cost per acre. The best time to sow is in the spring. Ground must be very carefully prepared. Price: 1 lb. 25c; 10 lbs. $2.00; bu. $10.50; 100 lbs. $17.00.

WHITE CLOVER—A small creeping perennial variety, valuable for pasturage and lawns; its flowers are well liked by bees. Flourishes in a variety of soils, but prefers moist ground. Price: 1 lb. 35c; 10 lbs. $2.25; 100 lbs. $18.00.

CRIMSON CLOVER (Scarlet Clover)—This is a highly valuable variety on account of its wonderful quick growth. Sown early in spring it furnishes a large crop of hay in May or June. It may be sown in midsummer or early fall as a catch crop for fine winter pasturage and for early spring, before other grasses or clovers are ready. It does not winter-kill so easily as Red Clover, owing to its mass of roots which spread out and go to the depth of furrow. For hay, it must be cut before coming into full bloom. Price: 1 lb. 20c; 10 lbs. $1.25; bu. $6.00.

GENUINE TURKESTAN ALFALFA—Superior to the ordinary variety because of its greater ability to resist drought or stand higher temperatures. Parallel experiments show it to be superior to our Alfalfa in yield where only a minimum supply of water may be depended upon. It possesses a very large root system, and the general construction of the plant is to enable it to do this. Price: 1 lb. 25c; 10 lbs. $2.40; bu. $12.25; 100 lbs. $20.00.

BOKHARA OR BEE CLOVER (Honey Sweet)—Highly recommended by experimental stations; especially adapted to bees, the honey from it being as clear as a crystal. It is also recommended as a fertilizer, to be turned under when green. It is a very quick, vigorous grower, and possesses superior qualities to most other clovers. Price: 1 lb. 35c; 10 lbs. $2.75.

JAPAN CLOVER (Lespedeza)—A low spreading perennial, very valuable for dry, sandy land. Price: 1 lb. 45c; 10 lbs. $3.50; 100 lbs. $30.00.

Permanent Pasture Mixtures

PASTURE MIXTURE "A"—Good Moist Soils. Sow ten to fifteen pounds per acre. This is intended for the average soil. Use more seed where land is dryer. If stock does not keep down to six or ten inches use the mower to do so. Do not pasture too closely. This is well suited for "patching" your present pasture by disking or harrowing in. Price: 1 lb. 25c; 10 lbs. $1.85; 100 lbs. $16.00.

PASTURE MIXTURE "B"—Dry, Hilly Uplands. Sow fifteen to twenty pounds per acre. Recommended for rolling ground, or where stones or sand in soil demand drought-resisting varieties. Plow or disk in where possible, and on unplowed, stumpy or stony ground brush thoroughly. Price: 1 lb. 25c; 10 lbs. $2.00; 100 lbs. $18.00.

PASTURE MIXTURE "C"—Shaded Pastures. Sow five to ten pounds per acre. This is especially planned to suit the woods, which is often waste except for its timber. Get the seed on and into the ground, do not leave on top of the leaves. The more open use the more seed. Price: 1 lb. 30c; 10 lbs. $2.25; 100 lbs. $20.00.

KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS—(14 lbs. per bu.) Also called June Grass and Spear Grass. Very valuable and exceedingly popular as a pasture grass. THIS excellent fodder plant is grown largely in all parts of the country. It somewhat resembles corn in its general appearance, but the leaves are much longer and broader and the stalks contain sweeter sap. One plant is considered sufficient to feed a pair of cattle for twenty-four hours. Eighty-five stalks have been grown from one seed, attaining a height of eleven feet. Price: oz. 10c; ¼ lb. 25c; 1 lb. 65c; 3 lbs., (enough for one acre) $1.75.

Wild Rice

VALUABLE as a forage plant for swamps and inundated lands, but chiefly as an attraction for wild fowl, ducks, geese, etc. Before sowing, soak in water for 24 hours. Sow in water which is from 6 inches to 5 feet deep, with soft mud bottom. In running water, sow out of strong current. Sow in fall, as seed must be sown before it becomes dry. We make shipments in September only, in damp form. Price: 1 lb. 40c; 10 lbs. $3.50; 25 lbs. $8.00; 100 lbs. $30.00.

Cow Peas

COW PEAS are too well known in the South to need any description, and have been used to such an extent in sections close to us and further north that their adaptability to these latitudes is past the experimental stage. They are usually compared with clover. Their feeding value is about equal, and many claim them superior, and their fertilizing value for land is about the same as clover. They can be sown from corn planting time in the spring to September 1st. It takes 1½ to 2 bushels for an acre. There are a large number of varieties, but we list only a few and these are the most popular and best sorts.

WHIPPOORWILL—The favorite early bunch-growing variety; has brown speckled seeds. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 65c; bu. $2.25.

CLAYS—A favorite with some for hay. Makes a heavy growth of vine and is late in maturing. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 65c; bu. $2.25.

BLACK—Seed black; best sort for planting with fodder, corn, rye, oats, etc., when mowing and curing for hay. Will make an enormous growth of vine in a short time. Equal to either of the above in feeding value, and is possibly the best variety for poor soils. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 85c; bu. $3.00.

NEW ERA—The famous standard variety, grown extensively everywhere. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 65c; bu. $2.25.

MIXED—We always have a supply of mixed varieties; usually a little lower in price because of this and equally valuable for soiling. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 65c; bu. $2.10.

CANADA FIELD PEAS—Quite distinct from Cow Peas, yet similar in valuable properties as fertilizer, food, etc. Price: 1 lb. 10c; pk. 60c; bu. $1.75.

Field Beans

LARGE WHITE MARROWFAT—Our greatest offering in Field Beans this season is our Large White Marrowfat. It is undoubtedly the most prolific bean grown: an ideal winter shelled variety. Price: pkt. 5c; ½ pt. 10c; pt. 15c; qt. 25c.

WHITE NAVY—The standard White Beans, smaller than the above. ½ pt. 10c; pt. 15c; qt. 25c.

SOJA OR SOY BEANS—Like Cow Peas, they are grown for soiling purposes, for ensilage, for pasture and for green manure. Their greatest value, however, will be found in furnishing food for dairy cows, as they are in proper condition for being thus fed at that season of the year when but few plants are available for such use. Price: 1 lb. 15c; pk. $1.00; bu. $3.50.

VELVET BEANS—Used almost exclusively in the South as a forage plant and also a fertilizer for turning under in the same way as Cow Peas. Stock readily eat the vines and leaves, and the beans, when ground with or without the pod, are used in place of oats or corn, or mixed with them. Price: 1 lb. 15c; pk. $1.00; bu. $3.50.

“HAVALAWN”

The Only Inoculated Grass Seed Mixture Ever Discovered

AWARDED THE GREAT WORLD'S FAIR MEDAL 1904.

HAVALAWN (name registered in U. S. Patent Office) is procurable only from us. Every package bears our green label. No other is genuine, and we will prosecute all infringements.

HAVALAWN mixture will insure a beautiful, compact evergreen sod on any lawn where the essential requirements of grass culture have been complied with. Its component parts are the grasses particularly adapted to lawns and door yards. It is composed of the best thriving varieties, together with the best known creeping or sod-forming sorts. Timothy and orchard grass are wholly excluded on account of their coarse leaves and only finest sorts are used. Full provision is made for a succession of growth, so that there shall be no break in the richness of the verdure from spring until autumn, and experience proves that Havalawn Grass Mixture is now perfect. Nothing better can be purchased on the American market, no matter what claims may be advanced by other seedsmen.

St. L. S. Co.'s Shady Lawn Mixture

THIS mixture is intended for all situations that are in partial or complete shade, and will be found invaluable on grounds lying under the shadows of trees or buildings. In preparing such places for the reception of grass seeds it is well to use air slacked lime quite liberally. This mixture is a combination of fine dwarf growing, evergreen varieties of grass, which grow naturally in the woods or in shaded spots. They are mixed in proper proportions to make a fine lawn under shade trees. Sow seed thickly.

Formation of Lawn From Seed

THE ground should be thoroughly drained and well prepared. The soil ought not to be too rich, as a rapid growth is not wanted in the grasses of a lawn; but the surface should be as much alike in quality as possible and thoroughly pulverized. After sowing, the ground should be rolled in order to press the seed firmly into the soil. The proper time to sow grass seed depends, of course, upon the latitude. In this vicinity from early spring to hot weather. Seed may also be sown in the fall, provided it is done early enough to secure a good, strong growth before winter sets in. The sowing should be done when the ground is moist, or before an expected rain, and a subsequent rolling is always advisable. As to weeds in newly made lawns, it may not be generally known, but many weed seeds actually lie dormant in the ground for six or seven years and will germinate and make their appearance when the soil is turned up.

ROLLING.—As soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring, the land should be gone over with a heavy roller. Winter frosts loosen the soil, and rolling is necessary to compress it again. If grass seed is to be sown, this should be done first and the rolling immediately afterward. Roll frequently.

MOWING.—All turf-forming grasses are improved, both in vigor of root-growth and in fineness of texture, by frequent mowings. It is impossible to say just how often the grass should be mown, as that depends upon the rate at which it grows. Too close cutting should be guarded against, however, especially during the hot summer months, when the roots require some top-growth to protect them from the burning sun. A good top-growth is also necessary to protect the roots from severe winter frosts.

TO GRASS A BANK OR TERRACE.—For each square rod, take a pound of lawn-grass seed, and mix it thoroughly with 6 cubic feet of good, dry garden loam; place in a tub, and add liquid manure, diluted with about two-thirds of water, so as to bring the whole to the consistency of mortar. The slope must be made perfectly smooth, and then well watered, after which the paste should be applied.

PRACTICAL DIRECTIONS FOR CULTURE, TREATMENT, ETC.

HARDY ANNUALS—(h. A.)—Sow in April or May, according to the latitude, in shallow boxes or pots placed in a warm window, a hotbed, or, if possible, in a greenhouse. A second sowing ought to be made from two to four weeks after for a succession, as well as to provide against failure the first time. For sowing seeds in there is nothing better than shallow boxes from 2 to 3 inches deep and of any convenient size. The most suitable soil for all the smaller kinds is a very fine, rich, sandy loam. That from old hotbeds is excellent, or sods from an old pasture piled up and allowed to rot for two or three years and then mixed with a little old stable manure and sand. After the seeds are up care must be taken to give them plenty of air and moisture, yet not too much water or they will "damp off." When the young plants are well out of the seed-leaf they must be transplanted to new boxes. If pots 2 inches or more in diameter can be had, set out from three to a dozen or more of the young seedlings along the edges of the pot, so that as soon as the ground is warm enough they may be easily turned out and planted singly, as by that time they will have made good roots. When pots cannot be had, boxes, tin cans, etc., may be substituted.

A common mistake in sowing flower, as well as other seeds, is covering too deep. As a general rule, cover only to the depth of the thickness of the seeds; or with medium-sized seeds, like Balsams, Zinnias etc., half an inch or so is none too much. Such fine seeds as Portulacas need only to be pressed into the soil with a piece of board or the palm of the hand. Always press the earth down firmly after sowing all flower seeds, else there is danger of their drying up before the roots can get firm hold of the soil. Seed, of the hardier Annuals may be sown where they are to grow; but as a rule it is preferable to transplant as the plants are generally stronger and stand the drought better. During very dry weather, and when the seedlings are first set out, they should be watered frequently. Provide some support for all such Annuals as require it.

The weeds should be kept down and the ground loosened often, so that the plants will receive the full benefit of the rains and dews, which they will not if the ground is allowed to become hard and baked.

Seeds of Biennials and some Hardy Annuals may be sown in July and August in the open and in September in boxes and placed in coldframes. They will make strong plants by spring and flower early. Do not put on the sashes until heavy rains and frosts begin, and then always remove during the day whenever the temperature is above freezing in winter.

HARDY-BIENNIALS—(h. B.) and PERENNIALS (h. P.).—These require the same treatment as the Hardy Annuals. In addition to the above, both Hardy Biennials and Perennials may be sown in the open border from July to September; for if not sown until spring, the seeds of many Perennials require several months and some even as long as two years before they germinate. In this case it is a good plan, at the commencement of frost, to cover them lightly with straw, leaves or any dry litter, in order to afford some protection from the extreme severity of the winter. As soon as the frost is out in the spring, remove the covering and loosen the surface around the plants, which when large enough may be transplanted to the flower garden where they are to remain. The seeds of some species of hardy perennials often lie in the ground for six or eight months before germinating, so that patience with them is often unexpectedly rewarded.

HALF-HARDY ANNUALS (hh. A.)—These may be sown in shallow boxes, pots or a hotbed, as directed for Hardy Annuals. They may be sown thus at any time after the middle of April, as the hotbed will be sufficient protection; but it is best to cover the glass with a mat or straw at night until danger of frost is past. In the day give all the air possible. After the end of May sow in the border, like Hardy Annuals.

HALF-HARDY BIENNIALS (hh. B.) and HALF-HARDY PERENNIALS (hh. P.) require the same treatment. Though plants and their bloom are greatly forwarded by sowing the seeds early in boxes under cover, it may be stated that nearly all kinds of hardy and half-hardy flower seeds may be sown in the open border in a warm and sunny spot, as soon as the soil has become dry and warm; so that those who have no glass frames or greenhouses need not be without flowers. They can have them, but it will be later.

TENDER-ANNUALS, BIENNIALS and PERENNIALS—The best method to obtain an early bloom of the Tender Annuals (t. A.), and to insure strength to the plants, is to sow the seeds in boxes or pots in March, placing them in a warm greenhouse or plunging in a moderate hotbed carefully protecting them from the cold, shading from the midday sun, and watering with a fine hose. The seed should be sown in a very light, sandy compost, and the pots well drained by placing broken pots or bits of sod in the bottom. The finer seeds must not be covered more than an eighth of an inch deep and the soil pressed down closely over them. Water frequently, particularly if the house or hotbed is very warm. As soon as the plants are out of the seed-leaf, transplant them into shallow boxes or small pots, and when they have acquired sufficient strength transplant into the flower-beds; not, however, before the middle of May.

GREENHOUSE SEEDS (g.) should be sown as directed for Tender Annuals, in pans, pots or shallow boxes, and be kept in the house, carefully watched, slightly watered occasionally, and sheltered from the hot sun till strong enough to transplant. Most varieties may be sown at any season of the year.

The smaller seeds of Greenhouse Plants are sometimes difficult to germinate unless great care be taken in the mode of sowing. Hence the supposition arises that the seed itself is not good, whereas the fault is not in the seed, but in the treatment. Fine seeds of this description should be sown in leaf-mold or peat, with some fine sand added to it; press firmly down in the seed-pan or pot, and make perfectly level at the top, so that the mold may not afterward sink materially with watering. Sow the seed very thin and cover very lightly with a little compost, or with silver sand. Success is more certain if a pane of glass is placed over the pan or box till the plants have appeared, when it should be removed. By this method the difficulty of starting fine seeds will be removed. As soon as the young plants have two leaves, they should be transplanted into similar compost in another pan or box. To do this do not pull them out of the seed pan, but break up the soil by running a stick or trowel under it, when the plants can be taken out with good roots. After transplanting they should be kept in a shady part of the greenhouse for a few days, and watered very sparingly.

There are many minute plants from the finer seeds killed by drenching with water while very young. One way to avoid this is to give it to them by dipping a clothes brush in water, shaking off the greater part from the brush, and then (holding the brush over the seed-pan) drawing the hand over the bristles several times; this will cause the water to be thrown on the young plants almost like dew. In the first stage of their existence plants require moisture in a minute quantity, often repeated and not in such large quantities as to saturate the soil in which they are growing.

PANSY—For spring blooming the seed should be sown in August, September and October, in a cold-frame with a southern aspect. Plenty of air and light is essential. During mild weather the sashes should be removed; when it is frosty, coverings are preferable to artificial heat. If wanted for winter bloom, sow in July and transplant in beds or benches near the glass in the greenhouse in a low and even temperature. The more expensive sorts and mixtures produce the largest and finest flowers.

PETUNIAS—Fill shallow boxes with fine, light soil, say an even mixture of leaf-mold and sand, and wet thoroughly by pouring on boiling water, which kills insects and heats the soil. When the soil has cooled sufficiently, but is still warm, sow the seeds very thinly in the boxes, so that the plants may be 1 inch apart; cover the seeds very slightly with sifted sand, and place slate or glass on top of the boxes. If the white root-points of germination appear before the leaves, sift on more sand, replace the slate, and watch closely. When the small leaves appear, remove slate and give plenty of light, to produce stocky plants. The soil may now need water, which should be applied very gently. Later the larger plants may be transplanted into other boxes or pots. As the weakest plants frequently give the finest blossoms, every plant should be preserved until the blossoms appear. For the magnificent large flowers the more expensive sorts should be ordered.

Sweet Peas

THERE are now in commerce, including the New Orchid-flowered type, about 300 varieties of Sweet Peas, with new sorts being added every year. Many of this vast number are either small-flowering, of weakly growth or lacking in some characteristic which a first-class variety should have. Every year our list is carefully revised, with a view to keeping it strictly up-to-date; and while it seems hard to dispense with some of the once popular kinds, yet it must be done to keep up with the march of progress, and if you miss some old favorite in our list, it has been discarded in favor of a new and improved sort of the same color.

SWEET PEA COLLECTION

The demand for distinct varieties of Sweet Peas is increasing constantly, and we are now offering eleven of the most popular varieties. Regular value 55c; for only 25c.

Nasturtiums

FOR ease of culture, duration of bloom, brilliancy of coloring, and general excellence, nothing excels Nasturtiums. All they need is moderately good soil in a well drained, sunny position, and from within a few weeks from the time they are sown until hard frost comes there is an endless profusion of their gorgeous blossoms. For cut flowers the tall varieties furnish the largest supply. The plants need not always be run up on something, as they will do very well if allowed to scramble at will over the ground. However, it is for trailing over fences, trellises and the like that they are most commonly used. Seed pods when gathered early can be used for pickling. Do not sow too early.

THESE little birds are natives of the country surrounding the world's famous town of St. Andreasberg, Germany, and are shipped to us direct. It is in that locality that the world's best canary breeders are located. They are famous for their soft, rolling notes, often keeping one bar of notes going until you think they would drop exhausted. We have no hesitancy in urging everyone to order one or two of these little home companions. Their voice is never harsh and they often learn to imitate a tune that you might care to teach them. They grow very much attached to the home folks and we know of a number of people who let them out of their little cages and play with them. For an invalid or for the sick room there is nothing that will bring more sunshine than one of these little creatures.

Fancy Gold Fish

WE ARE headquarters for these little silent household pets, being breeders and importers of every known variety. We can furnish you with an assortment for your aquarium that we dare say would be hard to duplicate. Fish require the least attention of all other pets and we are sure after you have once had a nice little aquarium in your home you would not part with it at any cost. Fish become very tame and always come to the surface of the water when being fed. Each fish that we send out is of the hardest type and we are sure our stock is unsurpassed in the city. We also carry a complete line of fish bowls, aquariums, ornaments and supplies.
